

2019 Writing Retreats

Tutor-led novel writing weekends

With Alison May and Janet Gover

Take time to write in peaceful surroundings, unhampered by the distractions of everyday life. Our retreats are all-inclusive allowing you to focus entirely on your writing. Emerge inspired and renewed with fresh insights into the writing process and your writing career.

Spring Writing Retreat: 8th-10th March, 2019

Autumn Writing Retreat: 11th-13th October, 2019

Whether it's your first novel or your tenth, this retreat is designed to help you focus on the work you have in progress or are about to start. The weekend is a mixture of workshops and exercises, writing time and discussions on the art of writing and the publishing industry.

Workshops will cover vital topics such as character and dialogue, plot structure and setting, point of view, themes and imagery. We'll share our top tips for editing and polishing your manuscript, and on how to catch the eye of agents and editors.

Tell us what you need to know. Workshops will be tailored to the attendees needs.

Each participant is invited to submit their work, for a detailed analysis and one-one-one discussion with our tutors to help you find your unique voice. You'll need to bring your laptop (or whatever you write on) and your work in progress. Also bring your questions and problems. We'll do our best to help you find answers.

Television journalist turned novelist, Janet Gover, writes women's fiction, romance and short stories. She has won, or been shortlisted for a dozen awards in the UK, US and Australia. Janet loves teaching and leads workshops at writing conferences in the UK and abroad. www.janetgover.com

Alison and Janet also write collaboratively as Juliet Bell.

The Retreat:

Arrive late afternoon on Friday for a welcome dinner and a chance to meet everyone and talk about your writing. Saturday and Sunday morning will be a mix of tutored workshops, one-on-one meetings with tutors and free time to concentrate on your writing. The retreat ends on Sunday afternoon with a session to help you take the lessons, energy and inspiration of the retreat with you when you return home.

Bring pens and notebooks. There's a lot of work to do and a lot of fun to be had as well. Dress however you wish and join the group in the evenings for informal discussions on the writing life.

The Venue:

Set in Tudor-style farmhouse built in the 1500s, Kings Court Hotel is in the heart of Shakespeare country, in the village of Kings Coughton, just seven miles outside Stratford-upon-Avon.

It features large en-suite rooms, and a bright airy conference centre, with plenty of places to sit and write. Free wireless internet is available.

The nearest train station is Stratford-Upon-Avon and there is easy road access from the M40.
